

INTRO SCENE FIRST DRAFT

Your ship is slowly drifting through the waters. Mountain peaks are visible on the horizon, surrounded by chunky ice blocks floating everywhere around them.

CAPTAIN

I can't believe it. We found it.

ANGIE

Sophie would have loved--

CAPTAIN

Angie, I need you to stay focused. We still need to get through those blocks of ice. Everything in order with the ice breaker?

ANGIE

Yeah.

CAPTAIN

Alright then. This is it, everyone! Looks like we actually are setting foot on land.

Your ship closes in on the mountain peaks, steadily moving forward and pushing the heavy blocks of ice to the sides. You make it through. But as you get closer to your destination, another ship, much bigger than yours, rounds the mountain side from the west and intercepts you.

CAPTAIN

What the--

A cannon is fired from the approaching ship. It hits the water right next to your ship.

CAPTAIN

Rob, Nova! Return fire!

You fire your own cannon and hit the enemy ship, but it does no real damage. The enemy fires another two cannons, both shots shred through your hull and wreck your engine. A third cannonball tears through your boat and it slowly starts sinking.

CAPTAIN

We are sinking! Jump ship!

FADE TO BLACK as we hear more cannon shots and screams.

The Captain crawls onto a piece of land (or a small boat).
No one else is to be found.

CAPTAIN

Angie! Rob! Anyone out there?

Silence. The captain manages to get the boat's engine running.

CAPTAIN

Thank god it's working. Angie, I'm coming.

END INTRO. Your mission objective starts.
